

Alliance Technologies Solutions Ltd. (KE)

“Alliance Technologies is one of the few Kenyan software engineering and development enterprises that offers locally produced and developed enterprise business solutions and applications. Formed 10 years ago by two young Kenyans, and using open source technology and high-quality industry standards, our emphasis is on improving the quality of decisions made by businesses and to create functional, maintainable, dependable, and efficient software through applications for Windows, Java, and Linux platforms.”

From academia.a1.io/about/, 21 May 2013