

Author-Publishers

Documents published by their authors.

Generally documents published without either an author affiliation or a publisher. This includes both formal documents and personal writings published by the author on the author's Website, sent as email, or Weblogs.

Organized by author name.