

WAMU 88.5 American University Radio

Radio station WAMU is affiliated with American University in Washington, DC.

Tuesday February 14, 2006

12:06 The Internet of the Future

Ten years ago, many people didn't have email, and companies were just starting to create their own web pages. Today, the Internet is becoming ubiquitous, and many people take it for granted. So what will the Internet look like in 2016? Technologists share their visions with Kojo.

Guests

Esther Dyson, Editor of "Release 1.0" for CNET Networks and Organizer of the "PC Forum" executive conference

Lee Rainie, Founding Director, Pew Internet & American Life Project