» LMOS Project First Release Goals

I've created a new wiki page for release goals on the project and described the goals for first release. Getting that first release out should hopefully give us enough raw materials to spur significant community discussion.

I'm sure we'll set up a project blog on Eduforge in the not-too-distant future. In the meantime, I'll post updates here.

Release Goals

Version 0.1

This release will include

- uPortal
- A collection of FOSS JSR-168 portlets that are relevant for a VLE, categorized by type
- A prototype of the service broker which connects one service to two portlets

The purpose of this release is to

- Provide a point of departure for the service broker
- Provide an inventory of available applications for the purposes of performing a gap analysis
- Provide multiple implementations of application types (e.g., discussion boards) to begin selecting preferred portlets for the default configuration
- Test existing uPortal configuration options for use in a VLE
