Center for Digital Education

The Center for Digital Education is a premier resource on K-12 and Higher Education technology. From its market intelligence programs, advisory services and custom research, to its annual events, publishing and publications, the Center provides the most dynamic and diverse opportunities for private- and public-sector leaders to remain at the forefront of the education technology revolution.

A membership organization, the Center [has] more than two decades of experience in the public-sector IT market.

From www.centerdigitaled.com/centeroverview.php, 12 January 2005

A division of e.Republic, Inc.