

Fedora Commons Inc. (US) dba Duraspace

“DuraSpace is the independent 501(c)(3) not-for-profit born from a vision to help save our shared scholarly, scientific and cultural record. We are dedicated to sustaining and improving Fedora and DSpace, two of the most dominant open source repository solutions. We continue to lead the development and improvement of open technologies that provide long-term, durable access to your digital assets.”

“We are also expanding into new areas that include ... how to manage the 'data deluge' and ... converting the overwhelming amount of data produced by scholars and scientists into useful information.”
