

Graduate Management Admissions Council (US)

ARCHIVES

“In 1953, the organization now called the Graduate Management Admission Council® (GMAC®) began as an association of nine business schools whose goal was to develop a standardized test to help business schools select qualified applicants. ... Initially used in admissions by 54 schools, the GMAT® is now used by more than 1,500 schools and 1,800 programs.”

“GMAC® is composed of representatives from leading business schools worldwide. As a not-for-profit education association, we are dedicated to creating access to graduate management and professional education.”

From www.gmac.com/gmac/aboutus/, 19 August 2007