

Sakai Foundation (US)

“The corporation is organized for such educational, scientific, and charitable purposes as shall qualify it for exemption from federal taxation ... including, but not limited to, serving as a proponent for open and community source collaboration and development for higher education software tools, as an information, research and development community for education software tools; fostering multidisciplinary research and education in open and community source software development and collaboration, promoting the expansion, development and implementation of education open source software tools to assist higher education and other sectors of the education community for the benefit of society.”

From Articles of Incorporation, 5 November 2005