

“The University is engaged in: high-quality teaching and learning, advanced research and partnership with business, regional and community partnerships and initiatives, [and] services for conferences, events and visitor accommodation.

“The University is collegiate, with colleges providing residential, social and welfare facilities for their student members, and creating a sense of community for staff and students together. Its academic teaching and research programmes are delivered through departments contained within three faculties: Arts and Humanities, Science, and Social Sciences and Health.”

From www.dur.ac.uk/about/, 22 July 2005