

Harnessing the Power of e-Learning in HE: Video

21 March 2006

Publisher's Note: Slides, audio and video from the conference can be found in the Media Collection under The University of Adelaide.

(2 hours)

Diana Laurillard, LKL

In a two-hour interactive online event, LKL's Diana Laurillard interacted with academics at 41 university campuses in Australia and New Zealand, connected via audiographic web conferencing technology. Based on her chapter in the recently published book 'Changing Higher Education' (RoutledgeFalmer, edited by Paul Ashwin), Diana spoke about e-Learning in Higher Education, with opportunities for discussions among session participants.

The event was co-produced by Allan Carrington (Centre for Learning and Professional Development, University of Adelaide) and LKL's Tim Neumann.

The video stream presents the screen recording of the audiographic conferencing system.
