

Within the Stockholm area there are twenty universities and institutes of higher education with a total of over 70,000 students. This makes Stockholm Sweden's largest university city.

KTH is divided into four campuses. The KTH main campus is located at the street Valhallavägen in central Stockholm. The best way to get there by public transport is to take the underground from Central Station (where also the airport buses stop). The underground will also take you to the IT University in Kista north of Stockholm. Approximately half an hour south of the city by commuter train, you will find KTH South, with one campus in suburban Haninge and one in the nearby city of Södertälje (Campus Telge).
